

Insurance claim for photovoltaic panel damage

Does homeowners insurance cover solar panels?

Usually, homeowner's solar insurance packages cover all types of solar panels: monocrystalline, polycrystalline PV, or thin film solar panels. The insurance protects your solar rooftop against common risks, such as fire, hail, lightning, storm damage, or theft. The claim limit for solar panel coverage varies depending on the policy.

Does a solar insurance policy cover accidental damage?

While standard policies may cover various risks, they might not include accidental damage to solar panels. To safeguard against such incidents, accidental damage cover can be added to your policy for an additional fee, providing extra protection for your solar panels.

What is solar panel insurance?

Solar panel insurance is cover that protects you from the financial blow of your system getting stolen, damaged, or destroyed in numerous specific ways. If you successfully claim on solar panel insurance, you'll get a payout to help you to repair or replace your system.

Are solar panels included in buildings insurance?

Most providers include solar panels in buildings insurance, treating them as part of the fabric of your home, just like the doors, floors, and walls. However, these policies can be insufficiently comprehensive, unless you pay extra. This means you can often attain a better level of cover if you get solar panel insurance separately.

Will solar panels affect my home insurance?

When you decide to install solar panels, it's imperative to inform your home insurer about the change. Solar panels can affect the rebuild value of your home, which is a critical factor in your insurance coverage. Your insurer can then advise you on any changes to the cost of your policy as a result of the installation.

How much does solar panel home insurance cost?

The annual cost of solar panel home insurance ranges from £118 to £152, which seems reasonable compared to the potential risks. Once you decide to install solar panels, inform your home insurer. Solar panels contribute to rebuilding your home's value, so it's important to list them in the insurance coverage.
